My dear John Muir

It was only this morning.
That our friend Murdoch (whom I had not seen for six weeks) told me of your sad loss - you must have thought me very callous never to have sent you even a card of sympathy.

This is a terrible bereavement for you & your daughters but I trust you have strength to bear it.

and there is the comfort of knowing that the separation from Rose cannot last it only temporary.

Pray pardon this belated expression of my sympathy with you

Believe me

Yours very truly
David Douglas
